DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The amendment and remarks filed December 6, 2007, are noted with appreciation.
2. Claims 1-30 remain pending; claims 1-16 remain withdrawn from consideration, non-elected without traverse in the reply filed August 11, 2006.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed December 6, 2007, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

A. The instant specification defines an aluminum alloy at page 4, lines 13-18, as "a metal in which aluminum is present in an amount at least equal to that of any other element." In other words, the amount of aluminum in the alloy must be greater-than-or-equal-to the amount of at least one other element in the alloy.

Composition of alloys in mass %

Alloy	Al	Zn	Mn	Si	Fe	Cu	Ni	Be
AZ91	8.9	0.79	0.21	0.01	0.003	0.001	0.001	0.0007
AS21	2.2	<0.01	0.16	0.98	<0.01	<0.001	<0.001	<0.001
AS41	4.6	0.01	0.44	0.82	0.003	<0.001	0.001	<0.001
AM60	6.1	0.01	0.29	0.01	0.003	0.002	0.001	0.00066
AE42	3.9	0.004	0.37	0.007	0.0003	0.0003	0.0009	0.00009

In both the AZ91 and AM60 alloys, Al is present in an amount greater than at least one other element. The AZ91 alloy, for example, is 8.9% Al which is greater than 0.79% Zn, 0.21% Mn, 0.01% Si, 0.003% Fe, 0.001% Cu, 0.001% Ni, and 0.0007% Be. The Examiner notes that there is a significant difference between the requirement "at least equal to that of any other element" and the requirement "at least equal to that of all other elements." Consequently, Blum does, in fact, teach aluminum alloys consistent with Applicant's express definition.

B. Applicant's arguments with respect to the double patenting rejections are not persuasive for the reasons previously set forth at item 4E, pages 5-6, of the Office action mailed April 6, 2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 17-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rivera et al. in view of Blum et al., previously of record.

A. These claims remain rejected for the reasons set forth under this heading in the prior Office action.

Art Unit: 1792

- B. These claims remain unpatentable in view of Applicant's arguments as explained above.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 17-30 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 11-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,126,997 A in view of Blum et al., previously of record.

- A. These claims remain rejected for the reasons set forth under this heading in the prior Office action.
- B. These claims remain rejected in view of Applicant's arguments as explained above.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

10. The prompt development of clear issues in the prosecution history requires that applicant's reply to this Office action be fully responsive (MPEP § 714.02). When filing an amendment, applicant should specifically point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including new or amended claims (MPEP §§ 714.02 & 2163). A fully responsive reply to this Office action, if it includes new or amended claims, must therefore include an explicit citation (i.e., page number and line number) of that/those portion(s) of the original disclosure which applicant contends support(s) the new or amended limitation(s).
